Prefatory Notice

THE following collection of hymn tunes has been compiled with the object of affording assistance in making a suitable choice for singing at home or in public. The task of compilation is rendered more difficult because of the wide divergence in musical taste, whereby some tunes which are much appreciated and enjoyed by many are less agreeable to others. The accompanying collection must therefore be regarded as a series of suggestions of tunes considered to be appropriate to the recently issued "Hymns Selected and Revised in 1928," to which it is hoped it may become a recognised companion.

To secure variety, a sufficient number of tunes is included, so that not more than two hymns need be sung to any particular tune. At the same time, some well-known tunes are omitted because it is assumed that they are already quite familiar to all, while their omission reduces to that extent the bulk of the collection.

It is particularly desired that the issue of these tunes may not be taken to be in any way an attempted infringement of the liberty of the Holy Spirit in guiding at times to the use of other tunes for collective singing.

Care has been taken to obtain permission for such copyright pieces as have been chosen. Should any copyright tunes be inadvertently included without the necessary permit, the error will be corrected, if so desired, in any future editions.

Acknowledgments

THE Compiler acknowledges with thanks the valuable help which has been accorded by Mr. C. W. Bowles, in the work of re-harmonizing, in selection of the tunes, and for original compositions Nos. 155 and 163.

He also acknowledges with thanks permission to use tunes taken from the "Methodist Hymn Book," the "Public School Hymn Book," "Hymns of Consecration and Faith," the "Scottish Hymnal," the "Hymnal Companion," "Sacred Songs and Solos," the "Believer's Hymn Book," the "Primitive Methodist Hymnal," the "English Hymnal," the "Young Life Campaign Hymn Book," the "Praise Book" of 1868, "Praise Songs," "Melodies and Chants," the "Bristol Tune Book," "Hymns Ancient and Modern," Miss Wigram's "Hymn Tunes," the "Golden Bells," and Salvation Army Music.

Acknowledgments are also tendered to Messrs. Novello & Co., Ltd., for the use of Tunes Nos. 64, 73, 90, 92, 99, 113, 115, 146, 176, 187, and 216; to Mr. G. Morrish for Nos. 26, 47, 89, 94, 114, 126, 154, 156, 167, 182, 210, and 243; to Mr. Francis Duckworth, for Nos. 11, 29, 59, 74, 226, 227, and 239; to the Committee of the Headmasters' Conference for Nos. 58, 125, and 172; to the Epworth Press for Nos. 111, 198, and 200; to Miss E. Dodson for No. 153; to Miss C. T. Bunnett for No. 131; to the Publishers of the "Bristol Tune Book" for No. 102; to the Executors of W. Garrett Horder for Nos. 45, 72, and 85; to the Proprietors of "Hymns Ancient and Modern" for Nos. 91 and 202; to Messrs. A. W. Ford & Co., Ltd., for Nos. 102 and 221; to Miss M. P. Cunliffe for Nos. 78 and 128; to Mrs. M. Walsh for Nos. 55 and 129; to Mr. J. W. Sargeant for Nos. 26 and 66; to Messrs. James Broadbent & Sons, Ltd., Leeds, for No. 134; to Mrs. Whinfield for No. 168; to Mr. E. C. Bambridge for No. 193; to Miss E. Warwick Jordan for No. 15; to Mrs. E. Race for Nos. 80 and 132; to Messrs. Marshall, Morgan & Scott, Ltd., for Nos. 87, 154, 179, 228, and 232; to Messrs. J. Curwen & Sons, Ltd., for No. 229; to Mrs. K. Pettman for No. 46; to Mr. J. Edgar for No. 69; to Mr. H. J. E. Holmes for No. 220; to Mrs. E. Taylor for Nos. 19 and 122; to Mr. J. T. Park for Nos. 39, 83, and 184.

The Compiler has been most anxious to trace all copyrights. If any have not been duly acknowledged, he will have much pleasure in rectifying the omission in future editions.
